

(Phoenix, AZ) – The Arizona Board of Regents has announced the membership of the University of Arizona Presidential Search Advisory Committee, which includes: representatives from ABOR; UA administration, faculty, student and alumni leadership; Arizona community colleges; community and business leadership; Native American tribal government leadership and more.

University of Arizona President Ann Weaver Hart previously announced she will not seek an extension to her current contract, which expires in June of 2018.

The board has set qualifications for the members to serve on the committee, which include being considered a leader in their specific area of influence and possessing the time and ability to participate fully on the committee. Members act as ambassadors of the Arizona Board of R

Lynn Nadel
Sarah Netherton

Professor, Psychology; Regents Professor, The University of Arizona
Former President, UA Graduate and Professional Student Council