Statement from ABOR President Eileen I. Klein
On Passage of University Bonding Bill

"The FY 2018 state budget makes clear that higher education and Arizona's public universities are clear imperatives for the future of this state. This university bonding bill represents the state's biggest investment in our public universities in a generation. With the passage of the bill today, our public universities will become even more dynamic as centers of learning, discovery and economic development, to the benefit of our students and our state.

"On behalf of the Arizona Board of Regents and Arizona's public universities, I commend Gov. Doug Ducey and legislators for investing in what has always been the surest path to the American dream - education."
